Banking news

Private Bank of Buckhead's Brent Adams recently was promoted from senior vice president to executive vice president, and will serve as senior banking officer. The Rome native and Buckhead resident joined the bank during the 4-year-old bank's organization period in 2006.

As senior banking officer, Adams has overall responsibility for leading the bank's business development activities and is responsible for leadership of the bank's community development efforts.

Brent Adams

Adams began his banking career with Bank South, where he worked in private banking and branch management for 10 years. He later worked for Wachovia, The Buckhead Bank and Riverside Bank.
