Private Bank of Buckhead officer honored

Brent Adams makes radio appearance, receives 'Bright Spot' Award

Atlanta, June 2008 – On May 23, Private Bank of Buckhead's Brent Adams appeared on Radio Sandy Springs where he was recognized as a Bright Spot Award Winner for his community service.

Brent, who is a senior vice president and relationship manager for the bank, has been going to Haiti for the past 10 years in a humanitarian capacity to help Nan Mango on the island of LaGonave, Haiti. This is the community adopted by his church, Covenant Presbyterian, where he chairs the Mission Committee, and by the Presbytery of Greater Atlanta, for which he serves on several committees. The purpose of their work in Haiti is to ensure through their fundraising efforts that some 150 children can attend school.

"Both in concept and practice we are a community bank," says Charlie Crawford, president and CEO of Private Bank of Buckhead, "and we take that charge seriously. Brent's committed and consistent community service is indicative of all our employees and directors; we're engaged in the community because it is our home – personally and certainly businesswise. I am proud of Brent's recent recognition and of so many accomplishments our team has achieved on behalf of the community."

Along with his annual trip to Haiti, and the work he does year-round in support of that effort, Brent also serves on the board of Buckhead Christian Ministry; the advisory council of Atlanta Crime Stoppers; and the steering committee for the Buckhead Business Association (BBA) Leadership Institute. He is a graduate of Leadership Atlanta's 2008 class, and is a member of BBA and volunteers with the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

He was nominated for the Bright Spot honor by Roy Rangel, president of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Radio Sandy Springs 1620AM can be heard – including Brent's interview – at www.RadioSandySprings.com.
