Teri Gann joins Private Bank of Buckhead

Atlanta, January 19, 2010 – Private Bank of Buckhead announces the addition of Teri Gann, who joins the bank as Vice President and Branch Manager. Her responsibilities include day-to-day management of client needs and the team members who serve them.

“Teri has a broad view of financial services,” says Terry Freeman, chief operating officer and CFO of Private Bank of Buckhead. “That and her ability to listen to and understand client objectives make her a valuable addition to our team of seasoned professionals.”

“When I contribute to a client’s success, I have a great feeling of accomplishment,” Gann says. “I understand clients appreciate my having a sense of urgency around their needs. I can deliver on that point because I genuinely like learning about my clients and their businesses.”

She has been in banking for 26 years, primarily in the Atlanta area, and has experience in most every facet of the industry. The avid reader and cook is involved in the community, having served on the board of the Better Business Bureau of Atlanta and Seven Stages Theatre, as well as volunteering with Hands On Atlanta, the United Way and the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Teri also supports the urban farming initiative of the Anchovy Primary School in Jamaica, along with a number of animal rescue groups.
